“Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer.” Romans 12:12

I just spent some time with a dear friend who has been in the hospital and subsequently in a nursing home for close to a week of physical therapy and rehab. She and her family are so thankful that she was able to go home a few days ago with continued therapy.

I am sharing this with you because I know there are many of you who are traveling this journey now, either personally or with a close acquaintance. Afflictions, in any shape or form can shake our world. How we long for sunshine and clear blue skies, but then, dark and stormy days roll in and we often feel as if the darkness and uncertainties might overtake us! Let me remind you that in our weakness and dark times, our God shows up and becomes our strength. There’s nothing too big for Him. He is always, always, faithful through our heartaches, brokenness, and afflictions.

What peace we can have as we walk through those valleys, because we know our Lord is walking that path with us...And His promise is to continually be our light and lamp.

If you are waiting for your storms to clear, then take heart! Always remember that your Abba is holding you close and is your refuge in this time of trouble. Through this trying time, you and I are called to be, “joyful, patient, and prayerful”. He alone is our Blessed Assurance!

“May the Lord of peace, Himself, give you peace at all times and in every way.

The Lord be with all of you.”

II Thessalonians 3:16

Precious prayer warriors, you bring us much joy! Your prayers are being answered every day!
